FEDERAL OFFICERS AFTER COUNTERFEITERS

United States District Attorney R. W. Breckons and United States Marshal E. R. Hendry were departing passengers aboard the steamer Mauna Kea vesterday, but the playing of the Ha waiian band on the wharf was not particularly for them. They had business, important business, that took them away, being called in a hurry relative to the passing of alleged counterfeit money by one Lee Leong, or at least the latter gentleman is held under ar rest therefor.

From Sheriff Saffery at Wailuku came a wireless yesterday morning that the Chinaman had attempted to pass a counterfeit coir. It was a ten-dollar gold piece and a mighty elever imitation of the genuine article, but the counterfeiter or the counterfeiters did not confine themselves to the more profitable ten-dollar gold pieces, running the risk of manufacturing spurious fivecent pieces.

Within a few days Breekons and Hendry will return with their prisoner and his bad money, if all goes well.
